Congratulations! You've made the move, unpacked the boxes and settled into your new space. There's a great feeling of accomplishment and comfort knowing everything is tucked neatly in its place, and that you are finally home. You may love your new home, but settling in also includes going out.

To help you get started, here are six easy activities to try:

1. Go for a walk and explore your neighborhood.
2. Smile and say “hello” to your neighbors.
3. Search online for local shops and restaurants in your area, and then go and check them out in person.
4. Host an open house and hand deliver invitations to your new neighbors.
5. If you have time, look for volunteer opportunities in your community and ways to contribute.
6. Join <https://www.amintro.com/neighborhood-tips> and meet others in your area looking to make new friends.
